November 2023

Dear Parents,

Temporary Absence of Mrs Byroo

Over the half term break, Mrs Byroo underwent medical surgery which now requires a period of convalescence at home. Thankfully, the surgery went well, and I know that everyone across the school community will wish her well with her full recovery.

During her absence, Mr Anderson and Miss O'Brien will be leading the school and should be the point of contact for parents should they need to be in touch with the Principal. As Regional Director for the academy, I will also be spending a considerable amount of time in the school this half term to provide support to the leadership team.

These next few months are vital for all students in taking significant strides forward in their academic progress. For those at Key Stage 3, these months are critical in getting fully on top of the curriculum for the year. For those at Key Stage 4, they provide an intensive period for studying and learning which cannot be replicated later.

Staff across Seahaven Academy are committed to delivering an excellent education for all the students and to making the most of their time at school. I know that parents are likewise keen to support their children's education and to build their partnership with the school in encouraging learning and hard work.

Thank you for your continued support of the school and for the role you play in ensuring your child makes the most of their learning.

Yours sincerely

Stuart Ingram
Regional Director

Principal: Mrs Shevlyn Byroo
